

Lighting Engineer

AV Factory is looking for a motivated individual to join our lighting team.

This position works as part of our events team. Experience with Vectorworks preferred but not required.

This person will work with, as well as direct teams in the office and on remote sites to complete assigned projects.

This person will oversee, as well as take part in planning, set up, operation and strike of equipment.

This job includes some out of state and out of the country travel; An ability and desire to travel is preferred.

Hours for this position vary based on event times and may occasionally include overnight hours.

Responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Specification of equipment for use on job site.
- Specification of lighting systems based on client needs.
- Direction of on-site teams, comprised of full time and over-hire employees.
- Full understanding of equipment to be used on job site.
- Motivating, organizing and encouraging teamwork within the workforce to ensure productivity targets are met.
- Communicating with other departments, staff groups and customers.
- Ensuring quality, delivery and budget objectives are met.
- Delivering and fulfilling objectives and directions from the operation's headquarters.
- Outstanding customer service; this person will work directly with clients and account executives to achieve the highest quality productions possible.
- Potential for part-time remote work.

Benefits include health insurance, long and short-term disability, paid personal and vacation time as well as retirement savings options.